WHEN: Tuesday, May 5, 10:30 a.m. PT.

WHY: At a time of year when food banks across the country struggle to keep up with demand and budget cuts threaten the social safety net, people around the country will come together on Saturday, May 9, to donate and volunteer to help Stamp Out Hunger. This is the largest single-day food drive in the world and involves letter carriers collecting donated food from their communities.

Background
On Saturday, May 9, 2015, the National Association of Letter Carriers, in conjunction with the U.S. Post Office, will collect donated food items from mailboxes in every neighborhood across the nation to help stock local food banks struggling to keep up with demand.

A press conference will be held at MEND on Tuesday, May 5, with NALC representatives and USPS officials, Ralphs and Anthem Blue Cross representatives, as well as a possible guest appearance by actor/director Edward James Olmos, who has supported ‘Stamp out Hunger’ for the last three years. The press conference will outline how easy it is for everyone to participate and help their neighbors in need. (Just set a sturdy bag of non-perishable food by the mailbox on Saturday, May 9, and letter carriers do the rest). MEND Food Bank representatives will discuss the enormous need for food assistance in the Los Angeles area.
Award-winning actor and producer Edward James Olmos, whose father was a letter carrier, was born and raised in Los Angeles.
